DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 4-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The term “any of” on line 1 of claim 4, line 1 of claim 13, line 1 of claim 24 should be removed.

Dependency of claim 6 is unclear.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1, 4-6, 17, 20, 21, and 25 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(***) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Haag et al (4,374,296).

Haag discloses a process of isomerization of paraffins having 4 to 8 carbons in the presence of a catalyst containing group VIII metal, namely platinum, a FER zeolite, namely ZSM-35, and a matrix, namely alumina which has been treated with water at a temperature. The condition of temperature and pressure can be found in the specification (the abstract; col. 2, line 66 thru col.3, line 6; col. 10, lines 36-62; col. 6, lines 31-33).

Haag does not disclose the comparison of ammonia desorption property of the catalyst. However, this property is expected to be inherent in the Haag catalyst which is also treated with water.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Claims 2, 3, 7, 13-15, 18, 19, and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Haag et al (4,374,296).

Haag discloses a process as discussed above.

Haag does not disclose how long and the temperature the catalyst is treated. However, Haag discloses that these are variables of the treating step (col. 3, lines 14-36).

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the Haag process by selecting appropriate temperature and time to optimize the water-treated catalyst.

Haag does not disclose isomerizing hydrocarbons of C9 or C10+ as called for in claims. However, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the Haag process by isomerizing these homolog hydrocarbons since it is expected that very close hydrocarbons can be isomerized in the presence of the Haag catalyst.

The sequence of the water treating step and the metal adding step is a matter of choice except unexpected can be shown.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 8-12, 16, 23, 24, 26, and 27 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art of record does not disclose or render obvious during the water treating step the pH of water is adjusted to about 2 to about 7 through the addition of an acidic or basic material that does not have a deleterious effect on the aqueous-treated catalyst.
